Architecture Building Culture – Portland, Oregon

Selected Works of Architecture Building Culture

Architecture Building Culture (ABC) was founded in 2008 and has offices in Portland, Oregon and West Vancouver, British Columbia. ABC's expertise encompasses a wide array of building types including cultural, civic, mixed-use/commercial, multi and single-family housing, and hospitality. ABC is a design focused practice that sees its fundamental role as one of reflecting, supporting, uplifting and, in many cases, transforming the cultural context of its clients. To that end, we are committed to a collaborative and integrative process that considers the story of a building, its occupants and their activities as one and integral to the community it represents. The work of ABC and its principals, Brian Cavanaugh and Mark Ritchie, has won numerous design awards and been published throughout the world.
