

Thomas F. Robinson

October 5, 2015

Lever Architecture - Portland, Oregon

Pacific Northwest College of Art Student Housing & Union Way

Biography

Throughout his 20-year career, Thomas has collaborated with educational institutions, museums and creative organizations on the planning and realization of award-winning projects locally and nationally. The projects are distinguished by elegant architectural solutions to complex programs, thoughtful site planning, and buildings that use light and space to embody the culture of the organizations they serve. Clients include the Princeton University Museum of Art, The Pacific Northwest College of Art, Pixar Animation, The Academy of Motion Pictures Arts and Sciences, and the Walt Disney Company. Robinson will share two projects; Union Way, a new day lit passage connecting Powells Books on Burnside to the Ace Hotel on Stark, and ArtHouse, a new student housing and gallery space for the Pacific Northwest College of Art on the historic Park Blocks.
